The CAMPUS

Dear Marilyn,
It's been a lot of fun knowing you in choir. We've had nice times together practising at the piano. Of course I've made a few sour notes but in all we haven't done too bad. (I hope)
The best of luck to you in the future years.
Nanette MacAdams

Dear Marilyn,
It has been fun having you
in my bowling & hope we will have
a class together again
Best of luck always.
Alice Maubayashi

Dear Marilyn
It has been fun
knowing you and having you in my bowling team. Too bad we didn't win the championship, but we tried. I hope to see you in the future. Lots of luck and happiness
~~to~~ in the future. Always,
Eugenia Masse

Dear Marilyn
Lots of luck to a swell girl. It's been lots of fun being in Bowling class with you & being on the same bowling team with you. Even if we didn't win the championship, we still had fun.
Your friend,
Kay

Dear Marilyn
I wish you all the luck and happiness in
the future
See you next year I hope
Joanna Ferrando

Dear Marilyn,
It's been very
nice knowing you.
Didn't we have a lot of fun in human relation?
Best of luck for
the future.
Dick Roach

Hi there fellow Warbler! -
Good grief - we only have 'til Friday to get into condition for the concert. I've really enjoyed knowing (not just "thinking" I'd like you") this semester. Hope it continues!
Have a wonderful summer!
Diane Marquis,

Dear marilyn,
It has been fun
knowing you and talking to you in the study room. I hope
I'll see you next year
but in the meantime, good luck to you always.

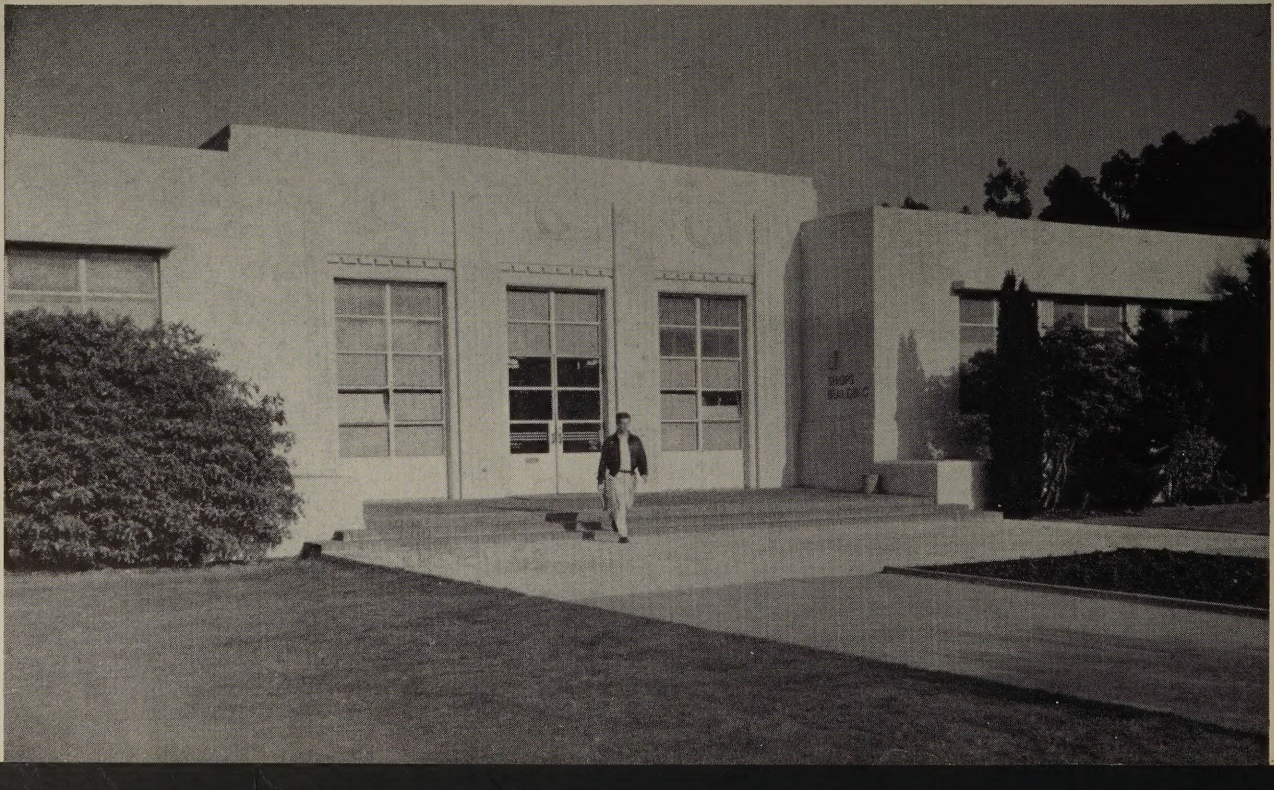
The Science Building is the main attraction for many of the students.

DELAWARE CAMPUS

The Delaware Campus, including about 30 acres of land, houses science, math, engineering, architectural drawing, photography, and shops classes. Busses take the students to and from the other campus, and the hurry and scurry to "make the bus" will be something that alumni will long remember. Both buildings are used extensively by day and evening classes.

The Shops Building offers facilities for training in specialized fields of work.



The Coyote Point Campus, on the shore of San Francisco Bay, is beautifully located in a grove of trees, and is a mile from the Delaware Campus. Here the students attend classes in buildings put up for a Merchant Marine school. Here are located numerous classrooms, the library, the main offices, the cafeteria, the Student Union, the gyms, pool, and athletic field. Here, too, memory will long linger on the walks to and from the parking lot by the beach, the beautiful gates, and the views of yacht harbor and the golf course and mountains. This 30-acre campus is the heart of the College.

This We Remember . . .

There is beauty at Coyote Point: the long views across the Bay . . . Hunter's Point, Mt. Diablo, the bridges, the sail and motor boats . . . the freighters, the tide in and the tide out, the rocky banks . . . the lazy views as we wait for classes, the quiet Bay seen through the library windows . . . the long lawns by the Ad Building . . . we'll remember.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Year in and year out public spirited citizens have served the College on the Board of Trustees, and the Trustees pictured above are carrying on the work that the first Board started back in 1922.

Since then, many men and women have carried on the College work, giving freely of their time and efforts to help build a College that has grown in importance here on the Peninsula and in the entire two-year college field. Businessmen, doctors, lawyers, and housewives have served, some for one term, some for several terms, and some for a number of years. Many names well known here in the Bay area appear on the minute books of the Board meetings.

The progress of the College requires willing workers on the College Board, for each generation of students sees the College faced with problems that must be solved and routine work that must be done. And on through the years there will be men and women willing to work for the College, the community, and the larger surrounding area that, more and more, is served by the College of San Mateo.

Administration

DR. JULIO L. BORTOLAZZO
District Superintendent and President

Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, District Superintendent and President, came to College of San Mateo in the fall of 1956. Previously, he had taken his advanced work at Harvard, he had taught school, served in the Navy, been principal and superintendent of grammar and high schools, and then president of Stockton College. At once he tackled the problem of the divided campus here, and, as THE CAMPUS goes to press, he looks ahead with optimism to the overcoming of the campus problem in this "Year of Decision."

PRESIDENT BORTOLAZZO

Dr. Bortolazzo has become well acquainted with the faculty and students. In his attendance at student social affairs and games, he has become noted for being an outstanding Bulldog rooter. Here he greets two students at the start of the fall term.

FALL SEMESTER

President Marv Harmon had the help of a strong Council in carrying through a heavy program of student body activities. The term opened with a welcoming dance and a successful drive for ASB card sales, and continued with rallies, assemblies, more dances, Homecoming, conferences, welfare drives, and other activities carried on by a well-conducted administration that earned the esteem of all.

FOURTH ROW: Mrs. Weston, adviser; Tim Hopkins, Tom Cole, Pete Umland, Rick Richardson, Bill Monolis and Mr. Hudson, adviser.

SPRING SEMESTER

President Tom Cole assumed office in the Spring term, assisted by some veterans from the Fall Council and a strong group of newcomers. The Spring term continued the many Student Body activities, with some special ones, such as the Frosh-Soph Day, added. Throughout 1956-57 both Councils gave full cooperation to the college administration in its all-important "Year of Decision."

JUDICIAL COUNCIL

The Judicial Council, composed of seven elected Judges, is the Student Supreme Court. The Judges rule on the constitutionality of all contested legislation and review the constitutions of the various clubs to determine eligibility as campus organizations.

AWS CABINETS

The Associated Women Students enjoyed two fine semesters filled with outstanding activities. President Sherry O'Neill headed the Fall term cabinet and program, and President Verna Barrusch directed the Spring group of officers in their work.

WRA CABINETS

An active organization at CSM, the Women's Recreation Association was led by two strong cabinets during the past year. In the Fall term, Jan Toole was president, Barbara Delucchi and Jean Nix served as vice presidents, Phyliss Dexter was secretary, and Martha Poage was treasurer.

For the Spring semester Jean Nix was president, Sylvia Torre served as vice president, Jan Webster was secretary, and Mary Lou Woodman was treasurer.

Miss Burton and Mrs. Weston were the advisers, with able assistance from Mrs. Berensmeier.

Pete Umland and Rick Richardson were assemblies co-chairmen for the Fall term.

TYPICAL COMMITTEE HEADS—Barbara Stellman and Dennis Brown were Spring Socials Co-Chairmen.

SOME WILLING WORKERS

DELEGATES—Leaving for the Fall Government Conference are Paul Thiltgen, Pat O'Donnell, Marv Harmon, Cathie Treagle, Deke Sonnichsen, and Advisers Mrs. Weston and Mr. Hudson.

FALL SESSION—President Marv Harmon presides at a regular meeting of the Student Council during the Fall semester. Voting members sit around the big table.

The success of a Council is helped greatly by the strength of the appointed officers who carry on committee and publication work. In each semester this College year, appointed officials served the Council and Student Body capably and willingly.

SPRING SESSION—President Tom Cole and his Council carry on with the passing of rules and policies. In the background are some of the officers appointed by Tom.

CSM SPIRIT

Many fine rallies were held throughout the football season, with the rally heads, yell leaders, band, and pompon girls featured on the programs. Sports rallies were held also in the Spring term to create added interest in the Spring sports.

PEP WAS THE THEME

At all the games . . . . . . and at the rallies.

Pompon girls who helped add spirit to our games and rallies were Bev Buckman, Lou Ann Bredlow, Margaret Maddock, Jan Watson and Mary Knight.

THE MARCHING BAND played for all the home football games and rallies, marched in the Homecoming parade, and later provided players to appear at the home basketball games.

With Director Bud Young in charge, the Marching Band, augmented by the pompon girls and majorettes, made a fine showing at sports events and added greatly to the color and spirit in evidence at the Bulldog games.

Frank Goss, Head Cheerleader; John Morrissey, Drum Major.

Students attended rallies in the Cafeteria, out on the lawn, and in the main gym at Coyote Point.

During the two semesters the Men's Glee Club and the A Cappella Choir entertained here at College and at outside gatherings, as well as taking part in the annual music festival at San Francisco State College.

MUSIC GROUPS . . .

The San Mateo High School auditorium was the scene of our meetings and concerts.

Mr. Edward Silver, orchestra director, giving a lesson to Elinor MacAdam.

The College orchestra takes part in the annual Spring concert. This program, open to the public, was held too late to be included in the yearbook. Then the orchestra will play for the June Commencement exercises.

. . . HELPED ENTERTAIN

Mr. Ed Silver, Mr. Fredric Roehr, and Mr. Elmer Young Jr. directed the music groups.

DANCE BAND

The Dance Band entertained at assemblies and rallies, presented its annual program, and appeared before many high school assemblies.

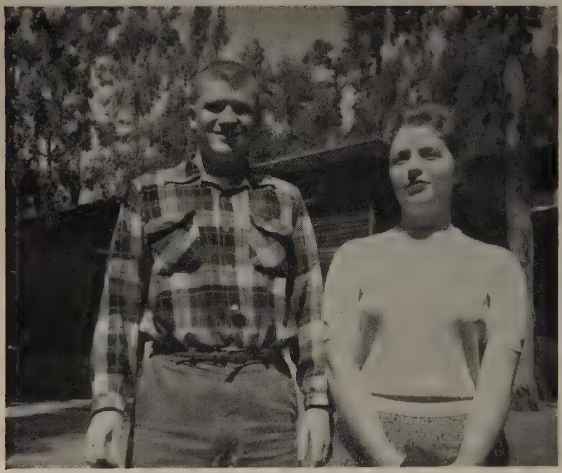
THE SAN MATEAN



Tom Cole, Fall editor, and Linda McKinnon, Spring editor.

During the Fall semester the college paper changed from coming out once a week to twice-a-week publication. This move proved popular with the student body. At the annual Fall Conference at San Jose State Tom Cole won first prize in sports writing. In the Spring term all the publication groups made an all-day trip to a press conference at Monterey, and while there took time for a tour of the historic city and the Seventeen-Mile Drive.

THE CAMPUS – THE LIT

The Spring term saw the publication of THE CAMPUS, the college yearbook, and THE LIT, the annual literary magazine. The yearbook staff started work even before College opened in September, collecting pictures that would portray all the events of the 1956-57 year.

The material printed in THE LIT came from the class in Creative Writing and from offerings turned in by other classes in English. Short stories, verse, and articles make up the contents of THE LIT.

HOMECOMING

With Homecoming set for October 26 and 27, the main interest centered in the conflict the College clubs waged in the annual contest to decide just who would be Queen and who would be the Princesses. Here President Bortolazzo crowns the winner, Queen Verna Barrusch, surrounded by her attendants. Sitting are Nancy Silberberger (left) and Darleen McKean, and standing are Marsha Morgan (left) and Phyllis Irby.

Engineers at work on the bonfire. No raiders threatened the pyre.

HOMECOMING PROGRAM

In addition to the Queen contest and Homecoming assembly, the big event included a bonfire and rally, the parade of floats, decorated cars and band through the local cities, the big Homecoming dinner for the Alumni, the fine dance, and the game with Stockton College. A committee, headed by Barrie Blair and Winston Downer, directed the work of a large number of students in making the 1956 Homecoming a grand success.

BONFIRE RALLY

Many hours of work went up in smoke when the big bonfire burned as San Mateo prepared for the Homecoming game with Stockton. A fine program was featured and the weather cooperated for a pleasant evening. Seven hundred rooters turned out. Dr. Bortolazzo spoke, the band played, girls sang and danced, the football squad and coaches were introduced, and the Queen and Princesses extended greetings.

AWS, WRA EVENTS

The Associated Women Students sponsored a fashion show-luncheon, "The Candy Cane Ball" (the semiformal Christmas dance), a Spring "Coke Date," another fine dance, "Spring in the Islands," and a slumber party. The Women's Recreation Association arranged a skating party, took part in numerous sports days, and sent delegates to the California Athletic Federation meeting in Hollywoodland.

Joint activities included the ski trip to Strawberry Lodge, a ski demonstration, two awards dinners, and the annual rummage sale.

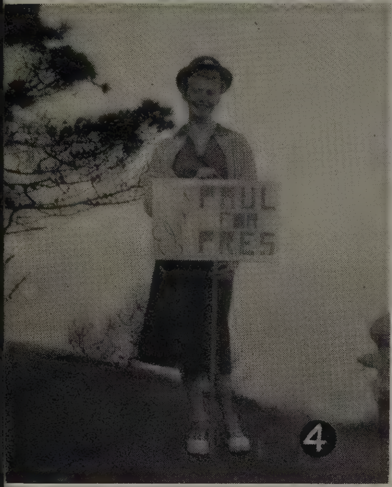
Elections and Dinners Helped Keep Us Busy . . .



SERVING WAS FUN . . .

Part of the fun of College life is the work done for the Student Body and College. That means helping sell student cards, campaigning for friends who are running for office, and serving on committees that do important work, but work that may not be noticed by the students at large. And then, as the term draws to a close, words of praise are said, and one realizes that the hard work was appreciated, and that the efforts had helped make another successful semester at CSM.

1. These salesmen, Treasurer Pat O'Donnell and Larry Lack, really sold Student cards during registration week.
2. Elections always proved exciting.
3. And so we voted.
4. But not until after strenuous campaigning.
5. Many received honors at the Fall Council dinner when the Spring officers were installed.

. . . As Did Field Trips, Sports, and Assemblies

. . . AND BENEFICIAL

Field trips took College groups to interesting places, and when we were back we asked for more. Just how many times did they take our pictures? Many assemblies were pure fun — but the Christmas one was serious. We'll long remember the fine Aquacade the Swim Club put on at the Coyote Pool. And who can forget the fine companionship and the valuable information featured at the many conferences? Or the long hours the San Matean staff worked to get the paper out twice a week?

All this adds up to college life!

JUST LOOK AROUND

Always there was something doing. Perhaps a noon pep rally would sound off, the paper would be out each Tuesday and Friday, your club would work on some project or have a social gathering, a guest speaker would be welcomed . . . and friendships would be started during those breaks between classes or over a cup of coffee in the Student Union.

A ski demonstration helped start off the winter sport.

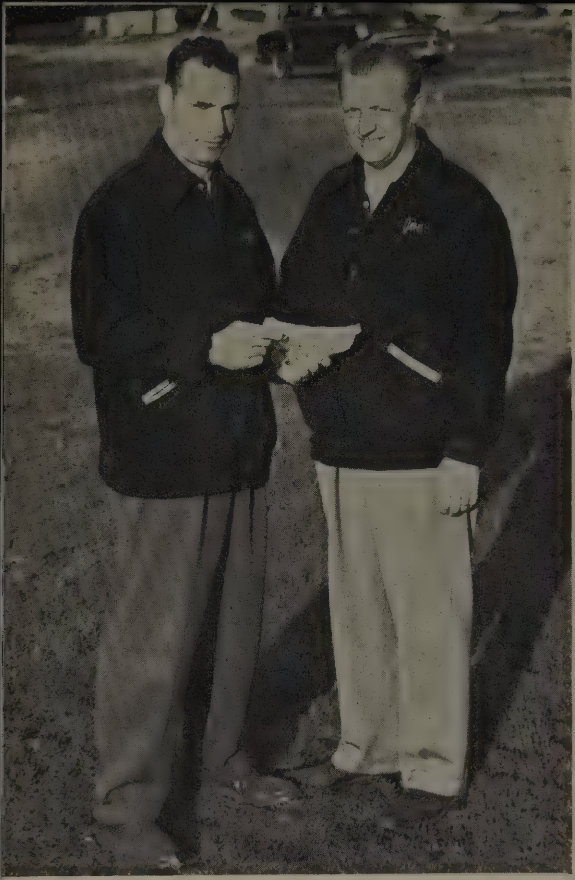
Athletics



Coaches Jesse Freitas and Joe Ferem.

FOOTBALL

Athletic Director Murius McFadden.

With shining armor and a new hope, the College of San Mateo Bulldogs looked toward a new season of pigskin thrills.

Coaches Jesse Freitas and Joe Ferem, a newcomer from Carlmont High, were optimistic as they viewed the training session at Coyote Point but were uncertain of what this untested, green eleven would do come game time against LA Valley.

Showing very well against a superior southland club, the Bulldogs managed to contain the Valley machine for a major part of the game before falling before an alert passing attack and a 32-7 defeat.

SM's lone score came on a pass from Don Covarelli to end Granny Wright. Covarelli kicked the conversion.

Then the peninsula club made the annual plane trip to Southern California and challenged another defending champion, the Fullerton Hornets of the Eastern Conference. The Bulldogs were stung, 26-7, with Covarelli hitting Ron O'Rourke for the single td for SM. Bill Barraclough's golden toe added the extra point.

The highlight of the season took place the following Saturday when the CSM crew trounced Sacramento's Panthers, 15-6, in the Big Eight Conference opener. It was the first time since 1946 that a San Mateo gridiron club had beaten the capital city footballers.

Bill Barraclough, the poor man's Lou Groza, did the winning damage with a 30-yard field goal after the Bulldogs had tied the score at 6-6 with an 85-yard td run by 205-pound fullback Gerry Meyer. Covarelli added the insurance tally in the last three seconds.

From there on, the CSMites were destined to lose six straight hard-fought battles.

WCC, with two lucky scoring thrusts, shut out the Freitasmen, 12-0. Santa Rosa's Bearcubs turned a deaf ear, 19-0, after the Bulldogs had driven to the 9-yard line on the opening kickoff. Stockton ruined this year's homecoming festivities, 14-6, and won the league title three weeks later. Oakland revenged last season's 20-13 loss by slipping past on two last period td's along with a blocked punt for an automatic safety. The Tom-Tom remained in possession of City College of SF as the Rams issued the third scoreless effort against the Mateans, 34-0. A belated bid to get a win resulted in yardage galore from the single-wing but nary a td. And Modesto nearly got the axe before squeezing out a 20-12 decision in Piratetown to hold on to "Jumbo," symbolic elephant of the Modesto-San Mateo series.

With more veterans expected come next September, the coaches are looking ahead to a better and more profitable season.

Here is official proof that we beat Sacramento.

No, Granny Wright doesn't have a sudden stomach ache. He's just caught the first touchdown pass of the year from Don Covarelli. That's Greg Re coming up to assist.

MEDRANO TAKES HONORS

Mat "Babe" Medrano, a Capuchino High product, made just about every conceivable honor and team that a jc player could, and it marked the first year that College of San Mateo has had a junior college All-American candidate.

Called by many sports writers as a tiger on defense, Mat always played 60 minutes of hard, rough, tough football whether the score was 0-0 or 34-0.

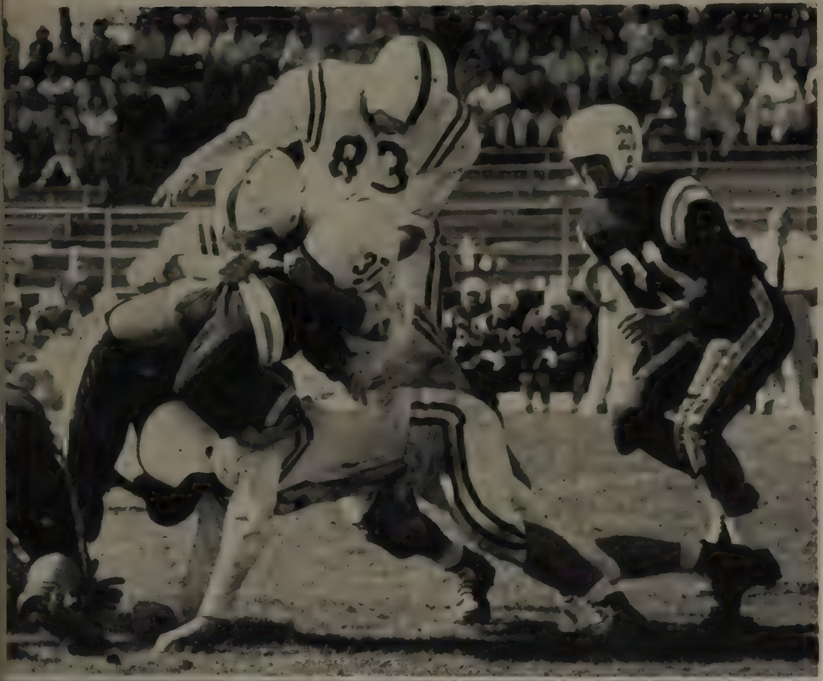
In accordance, CSM awarded him the "most valuable player" plaque at their fall banquet, and rival coaches selected him on the all-Big Eight first team.

All seven rival conference schools selected him to their all-opponent clubs, and the crowning touch was added when the Wigwam Wisemen of America accorded him All-American honors in their 1956 poll.

Fullback Gerry Meyer gets spilled after making a short gain against LA Valley in the season opener at SM High's gridiron plant.

Halfback Clair Smith, expected to be one of the big guns in next year's pigskin plans, totes the leather for some yardage against Valley.

A REVIEW IN PICTURES



Gangway! LA Valley fullback Clark Holden is about to get dumped after carrying the mail for the Southlanders. That's Gene Cornelius (83) putting on the clincher.

Ooops, missed! Larry Byers, state JC end from Valley, just fails to grab Steve Sietz' helmet as the bulldog dynamite halfback scoots through the Monarch line for yardage.

Football Manager Don Rojas (right) had fine help from Clint Argus.

Here it is! The winning field goal against Sacramento. That's Bill Barraclough doing the booting.

Halfback Charley Lax charges into the line for yardage against the Panthers. Lax and Meyer had 201 of the 214 yards gained rushing that day.

Gotcha! Halfback Johnny Treu, playing his best game against these Santa Rosa Bearcubs, didn't get away this time as an unidentified SR man grabs jack-rabbit John after a short gain.

The rambling wreck from Georgia, O. J. Klein, is about to be hauled down by several Stockton defenders in the homecoming game. Stockton won, 14-6.

Halfback Buddy Murray nabs this aerial from Wayne Lee in the annual grudge match with CCSF in Kezar Stadium. The powerful Rams ran up a 34-0 score.

BASKETBALL

"Boys, this is a basketball." That's what Coach Balsley seems to be telling his top five as they open the practice campaign.

Hoping to better their 10-15 mark of 1955-56, the cagers of Coach Ray Balsley set out on a rugged trail through another 25-game slate and, after completing the exhibition rounds with a 5-6 count, had high hopes of reaching a rung in the upper division.

But fate was to have otherwise, and after a dismal first round of 2 wins and 5 defeats, the Bulldogs came back strong to win 3 and drop 4 to wind up in fifth place, tied with Stockton.

City College of SF represented the Big Eight at the State Tourney at San Jose JC and grabbed third-place honors by bowling over San Diego, 76-63.

In collecting an identical 10-15 record, the CSM five tallied 1656 points while the opponents hit for 1750.

Forward Dick Lennen, one of the mainstays this season, pumps through a nice jump shot as Bulldogs thumped Santa Rosa, 75-49, in the first round.

Al Lindberg, a veteran from last year, hooks in a bucket against Oakland in second round action as Ron Kreiger (12) looks on. CSM won, 64-59.

BASEBALL

When you see little spheroids of white horsehide flying through the air with the greatest of ease, you know it's time for baseball, and the outlook for Coach Jesse Freitas' 1957 championship hopes were good, considering the potentiality of four vets back in uniform.

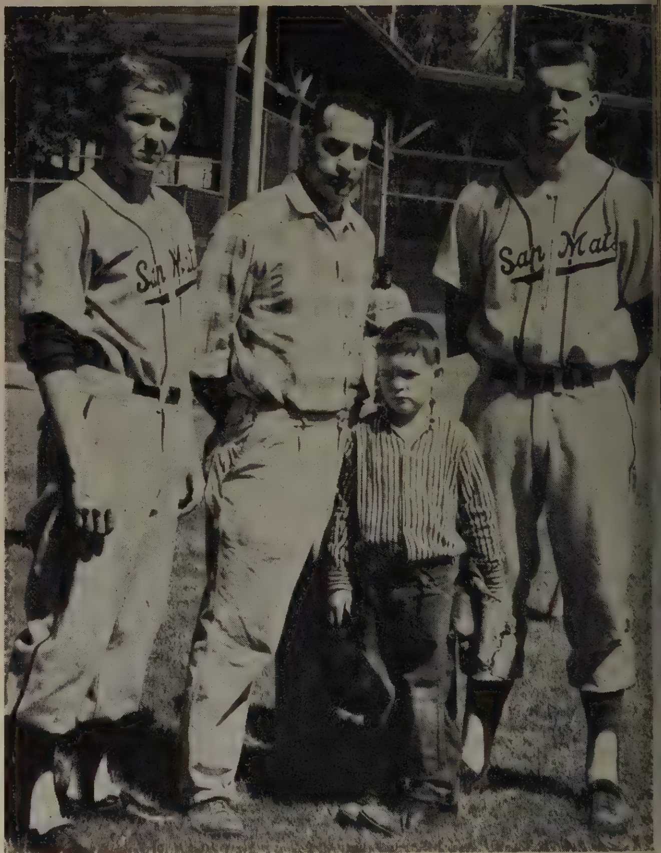
The men were a game bunch of lads, and after dropping the opener to the Stanford Braves, 2-0, in a season delayed by two weeks of solid rain, they came back to set up a five-game winning streak and held a 7-6 mark by the first week of April.

East Contra Costa defeated the Bulldogs in the next game, 7-5, before the peninsula nine picked up the first victory with a 6-5 decision over the UC Cinnamon Bears.

The next Saturday gave the SM club a split in the BEC opening day twin bill, Modesto taking the first, 6-2, the Bulldogs winning the nightcap, 6-4.

Then came wins over Alameda Naval Air Station, 13-1, Moffett Field NAS, 9-7, Parks Air Force Base, 7-2, and the first game of a league doubleheader with Oakland's Thunderbirds, 6-1. The East Bay school won the second, 10-9.

As the yearbook prepared to close up shop, the CSM nine had posted a victory over Treasure Island's Marines, 7-5, and dropped a return match to Stanford's Braves, 10-4, with a trip to Sacramento forthcoming and eight other BEC games remaining.



Coach Jesse Freitas poses with his son, little Jesse, and ace pitchers Reg Christmas and Ron Krieger.

Ace chucker Reg Christmas rears back to throw his "fast one" down the middle.

NUMBER 2 MAN—Pat Larkin

With four returning veterans pacing a defending state champion aggregation, Coach Ray Balsley's CSM Bulldog divot-diggers were undefeated as the Campus closed its pages.

The Mateans led the Big Eight Conference with 5-0 and matches with Oakland and CCSF left to go, and had captured ten straight in the season.

Their chances of coming home with the conference, Northern California, and state tournaments were excellent.

The Barons won the flag football tourney from their finalists, the T-Men, and the Nippers won the three-man basketball crown in the finals from the Tippers.

Ping-pong tables were busy daily as the men students engaged in light sports inside and outside the main gym, with interest in intramural activities increasing right along.

With good publicity and well-planned activities, the ACC fulfilled its purpose of continuing to give CSM students the best of entertainment.

Before

March 22 was a quiet but busy day as the students started eating their lunches early in the Cafeteria, talking over class problems, club doings, and the recent games.

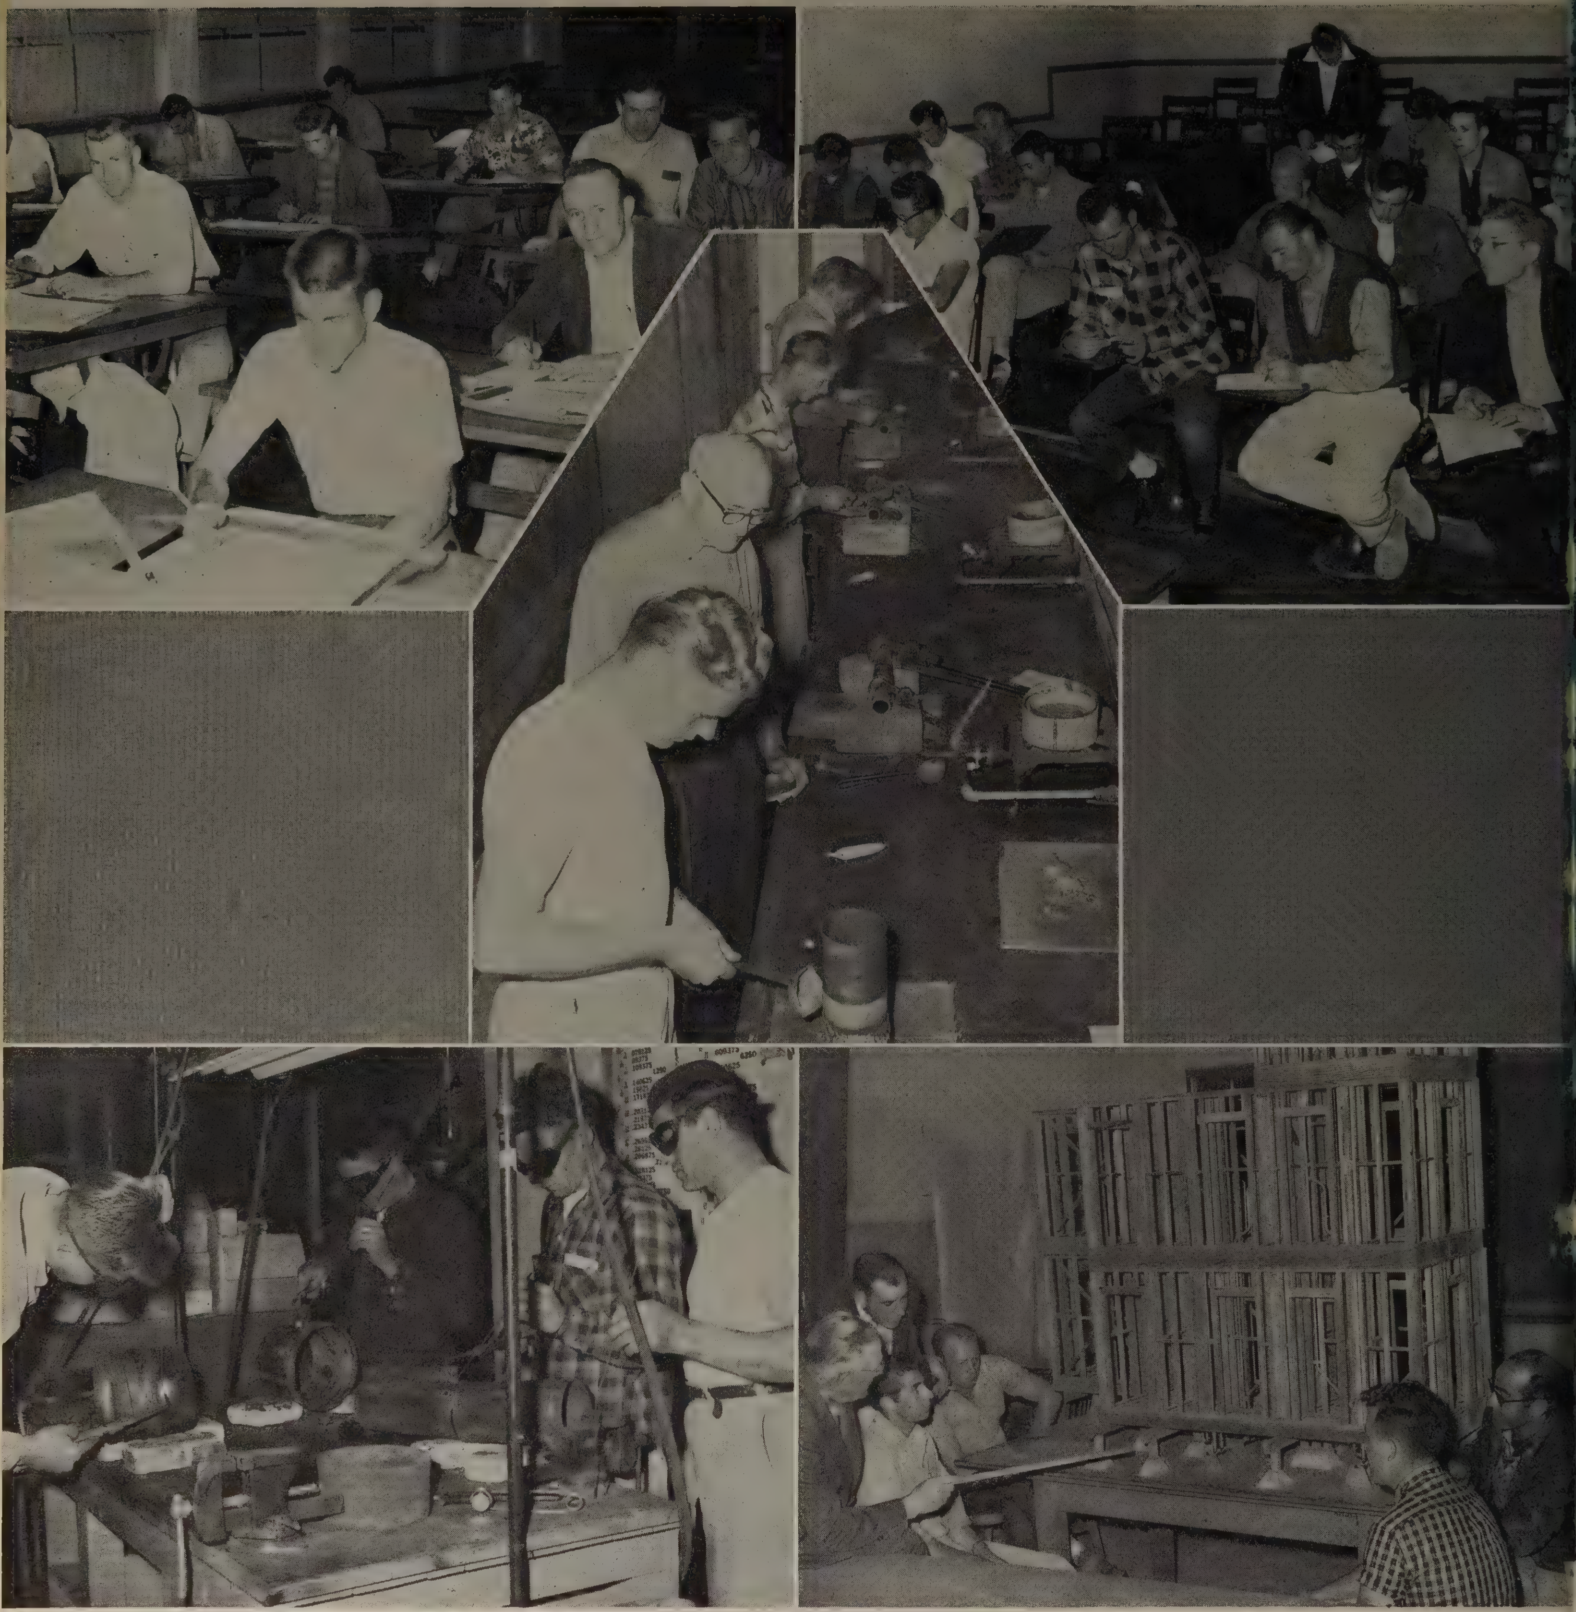
After

Then the sharpest earthquake to be felt in this area since 1906 hit. While classes remained in their rooms until bells ordered them outside, the crowd in the Caf. moved right outdoors, surprised and somewhat amused.

Results

A roving cameraman snapped these shots of CSM's reactions. There was no damage done, and the lunchers quickly went back indoors to eat, to talk about campus doings and the coming games.

Evening Classes Kept Busy



College work carried on into the evening hours with many people studying for graduation or for advancement in some particular type of work. Many of the plumbing apprentices worked for their AA degree, and some of their class work is pictured here: 1—Blueprint reading and drafting; 2—Related training class work; 3—Lead wiping; 4—Welding; 5—Studying a plumbing system in miniature.

Completion exercises honoring the fourth group to be graduated from the Cosmetology Department since 1953 were held on the College Campus. These eleven graduates passed the California State Board of Cosmetology examination and immediately received employment as licensed beauticians.

SPECIAL GROUPS

Trustee Robert Garvey presented certificates to the first five students to complete the new industrial management program. This program, designed for employed people, had fourteen sections meeting during the Spring semester.

VICTOR KOTTINGER

During the past year the College suffered two severe losses. Death came to Victor A. Kottinger, machine shop instructor, and to Richard L. Averill of the Psychology Department. Mr. Kottinger joined the faculty in 1941. Mr. Averill came in 1946. In the memories of their many students, their worth and influence will long remain.

RICHARD AVERILL

FRIENDS OF ALL

These three men have served the College of San Mateo for a grand total of more than 80 years. Now they are retiring. Students, faculty, and alumni will miss them and will hope to see them visiting the College in days to come. They are (left to right) Dr. Harry Redeker of the Chemistry Department, Dr. David Shepherd of the Biology Department, and Mr. Dan Reichel of the Civil Engineering Department.

COLLEGE of SAN MATEO

Graduates, remember that the front gate is open to you in the days to come.

IN CLOSING . . .

What are your plans for the summer?

As we bring the 1957 CAMPUS to a close, we wish to congratulate the members of the two graduating classes, and to extend our thanks to the publishers and their printing staff, the photographers, the bindery staff, and the many persons on our two campuses who assisted us in many ways.
